Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground-rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,

LETTERS FROM TOWN.

LETTER II.

You may have heard, perchance, that Market street
Is much the gayest part of all this city;
In which you always may such ladies meet
As Heav'n makes fond of gadding, vain and pretty,—
And comely gentlemen all trig and neat,
Very well dress'd, but seldom very witty,—
Together with a thousand things beside,
That cross your path, whether you walk or ride.

I can't but say I like the lounge myself,
That is, except in dusty or wet weather;
Altho' I am a heedless, absent wight,
And scarce can keep my thoughts or limbs together:
I'm apt to break my head upon the ice,
Or run it, smash! against a lady's feather,
Or find myself demolish'd in a trice
By some huge fellow built of bones and leather [and the wall,
Who gives me, 'twixt the curb stone
The pleasant option of a crush or fall.

By the way, I'd like to see the city taxes
Applied in part to buy some lamps and axes:
For when one recollects that brains and pay
Are both so scarce,—'twould seem if I see right,
That skulls were in a slippery way by day,
And purses rather insecure by night.
However, as no person likes taxation,
Long live our worthy, frugal corporation!
May they extend Pratt street, and teach good manners
Unto the millers and the tanners!

But, in this bustling street, as I was saying,
You may encounter many pretty misses
Flitting in squads and couples, and displaying [lisses
Their shawls and bonnets, ancles and pe-
Sometimes just three in number, like the graces [like the Muses,) ('Tho' I've seen nine, in which thy're
And blest, like them with very pretty faces:
'Tis pity now a days, that each one chooses
Her own Apollo,—not for wit or sense,
But for the golden rays he may dispense,—
Because, like Phœbus, he good legs displays
And can support a curricle and bays.
This god, by the way, with all his merit (and he [Dandy;
Had much, no doubt) was something of a
Was not unfond of glare or driving either,
And seldom show'd his face in cloudy weather.
I don't remember that mythology teaches
He ever wore corsets or cossack breeches:
Had he done it, [his wit.
One might have had some cause to doubt
But to return: these ladies that I spoke of
Are little beings pleasantly compounded
('Tis what I don't design to make a joke of,)
Of limbs and bonnets delicately rounded,
And nature and the milliner together
Combine to rig them out with brains and feather;
And when you add a flounce, a little lace,
A pair of laughing eyes, and a smooth face,
Some common-place, and an Italian ditty,
You may imagine what a pretty
Furniture they are to paper'd walls,
And what a pretty show they make at birth night balls.
Indeed, so necessary are they reckon'd
That the managers
Always, however weighty their affairs,
Bespeak some hundreds for the "twenty-second,"
And round the room and supper table range
With other things as tasteless, fine & strange.

These ladies very oft my fancy pose
To find to what I fitly can compare them,
Something like insects that around you buz,
Which you'd near notice, if you did not hear them;
Fickle like wind, which, tho' itself so light,
Is known to set the weightiest things in motion; [sight,
Or like the weeds at sea that catch your
Observ'd to show the currents of the ocean.
Straws, as the saying goes,
Show how the wind blows;
So by their veering favors you are able
To tell who is 'nt or is fashionable.
However, the simile that strikes me most
I cannot as original boast:
A woman, says a poet, is a horse
That for the bit and bridle's ne'er the worse. [civil,
Pamper her once, and give her treatment
She'll gallop with you to the devil.
A maxim that I shall apply,
When I get courage once to try.
'Tis said, (tho' I won't say that I believe it,
For there's no greater liar than tradition,
As all the honest bodies who receive it,
Don't like that it should lose in the transmission,)
That this same name of Market street
Was giv'n as most appropriate,
As being a sort of fair or exhibition,
Time out of mind,
For live-stock of a certain kind.
But this a dangerous scandal I consider:
At least, I've not the least desire
To waken any lady's ire,
Or make her burst her laces,
By saying she in any case is
"Less than archangel," or would show her paces, [bidder:
Or knock her heart down to the highest
I quarrel with no ladies e'en in rhyme,
For I have seen some tartars in my time.
I wish I were not quite so apt to ramble,
But my muse loves a gentle amble
And will digress to what she likes,
And paint the first absurdity that strikes.
No doubt I'd better rein her in,
If I'd preserve sound bones and a whole skin,—
For men of wit, as every body knows,
Are apt to have their hits return'd with blows, [bing.
And while at others' foibles they are rub-
Are much too apt themselves to get a drubbing.
But I inform all bloody minded men
I wield my cudgel better than my pen.
But to return once more: these ladies bright
Are rear'd with great expense and mighty trouble,
As skilful cooks raise bread to make it light,
Ands chool-boys labor to blow up a bubble:
I've done it oft, and have been very wroth
To see, as here, the vapour change to froth. [late"
For first, mamma doth "early drudge and
To make the pretty puppet sit up straight,
And every second minute quarrels
With our relaxed state of morals,—
Praises old times, when "things were managed better, [straighter."
When daughters were obedient, and sat

Emerging from the nursery rule,
Miss Adeline is sent to school:
The dancing master teaches her to caper,
The usher, how to put her hair in paper;
Together with some other wholesome knowledge, [at college.
Many have not who've slept three years
In geography, for instance—that the earth
's by no means flat, but round as any ball,
That streams in mountains generally take birth,
And for the most part into the ocean fall,
And that the Danube isn't in Bengal.
In history—that king Alfred was a sage
Who made good laws, but liv'd long after Moses,
That men in bloody wars do oft engage
And quarrell'd in England much about some roses,
But why—these gentle politicians poses,
Whose whole artillery is frowns,
Who besiege hearts but never towns.
In logick, I don't rightly know
If their attainments farther go
Than that grave arguments but serve to teaze one, ['em)
(For who in "good society" e'er heard
And he that to a woman utters reason
Is truly said to argue in absurdem;
Tho' some, 'tis said, when Hymen's fetters shackle 'em, [*lum.

Accomplish'd thus as well with rhyme as reason,
(For I forgot to mention they read Moore,)
They come upon you in the winter season,
Or turn out (as they call it) by the score,
With forms it is a luxury to gaze on,
Tho' that's the very thing I think a bore,
Because a prudent person must
Not choose his helpmate as he would a bust,
And I who wish to live and wed by rule
May thus be wheedled by some well made fool. [soon
Besides I always thought it much too
To hate one's wife after one honey moon;
And if the matter can be bro't to bear,
Shall try to make mine last a year.
One should economise what costs him dear.

In fine, (for my good Pegasus is tir'd,
And founders at a rhyme,) than me there's no one
By whom in sooth a woman's more admir'd
That is, I mean a pleasant and a true one,
Artless and pure, mild, timid, and retir'd,
For there are such; I think that I can show one. [tire,
Each maid like her may calmly read my sa-

Extract of a letter from an officer on board the Lautaro, giving an account of the battle between that ship and the Spanish convoy, dated

"Valparaiso, Dec. 20.

"I shall just give you a small sketch of the battle. We sailed from this port on the 10th of September, with the San Martin, of 60 guns; the Chacabuco, of 20; the Anaconda, of 16, formerly the Columbus; our ship, the Lautaro, mounting 50 guns, with about 80 Europeans and Americans, and 200 green Chilians, from the sod; but our officers were good men, mostly English, who preferred going with us, to their own countryman, Captain Wilkinson, who commanded the San Martin, which ship had about 100 Europeans and 250 Chilian. Our intention was to entrap the Spanish convoy from Cadiz bound to Lima, consisting of the Maria Isabella, and ten transports, with 2300 troops on board. The fifth day after leaving port, we lost the Chacabuco; on the 25th, lost company with the Anaconda; on the 28th off the island of St. Mary's, boarded a British whaling ship, which informed us that the frigate Maria Isabella had gone into Talcahuana with four of the transports, which determined us to make all sail for the said port, and on the 29th we entered the port, receiving a heavy fire from the frigate and forts; from our ports, not one gun was fired till we got within good cannister shot, when we opened a tremendous fire of round and grape, on the frigate, town and battery. The old Lautaro at the time was exposed to the most galling fire from the post she held, which she soon silenced. The Maria Isabella, finding no hopes of beating us off, cut her cables and run in shore within pistol shot of the beach. We immediately sent all our boats, officers and men, to get her off as soon as possible, which was not an easy task, having 1200 troops playing upon us from behind the houses with musketry.—They kept up a constant firing for six hours and we as warmly returned it. After a long and tedious time of 20 hours, we succeeded in getting the frigate off, under a severe fire from the enemy. Our loss was about 40 killed and wounded, that of the enemy must have been very great. The Maria Isabella is an elegant ship, mounting 60 guns, which capt. Wooster now commands. The great patriot lord Cochrane has just arrived, which gentleman was appointed in England commander of the squadron, from the agent of this government. Had not his appointment been prior, capt. W. should have had the command. On his arrival, finding what he had done, he was generous enough to decline accepting the command, saying that those who had struck the first blow to the enemy was most entitled to that station; that it would be wrong in him to place the laurels gained by others on his own head. Pleased with his open and generous conduct, and being a man of talent and bravery, we agreed to his taking the command of the squadron, and expect we shall sail from this to attack Lima, which place I think we shall carry without much hard fighting.—Should it be our good fortune to take Lima this summer, you may expect to see me the next."

From the New-York Gazette, May 21.

Messrs. Lang & Turner,

I hand you some of the last Buenos Ayres Gazettes that had arrived at Monte Video previous to my leaving that place. Letters from Buenos Ayres as late as the 9th of Feb. had reached Monte Video stating that considerable alarm existed at that place, in consequence of approach of a pretty strong force of Montaneras, under the command of Andreseto, one of the Artigas' generals: they had already advanced to within 18 leagues of that city, and by posting themselves on the principal roads leading from it, had in a great measure cut off their communication with the interior, and of course with their army on the west side of the continent. It was the prevailing opinion at Monte Video, that gen. Artigas would endeavor to make himself master of Buenos Ayres. But should that city make a spirited use of the means it possesses to repel such an enterprise, it may very well be doubted whether he has the power to effect it. His forces being almost entirely cavalry seem ill qualified to storm forts or batter store-houses. But though this description of troops may not be adequate to the immediate reduction of the city, it is peculiarly adapted for harrasing the Buenos Ayreans, and under a leader of the activity and enterprise of Artegas, will doubtless do them serious injury.

He can in a degree destroy their trade with the country, and render very precarious, if not impracticable, their intercourse with their army.

The Portuguese remain in quiet possession of Monte Video; for as they seldom venture far beyond their lines, which are in sight of the city, nothing more than some slight skirmishing had recently occurred between them and Artigas, whose offensive measures consist chiefly in driving the herds of cattle from the coast into the interior, and prohibiting the introduction of hides or jerk beef, on pain of death. By this prohibition he has caused a great scarcity of hides at Monte Viedo, and cut off a principal source of revenue to the Portuguese, on the export of that article.

Gen. San Martin had joined his army in the neighborhood of Valparaiso. His movements since the battle of Maipo afford little interest.

Extract to the editor of the Baltimore Patriot—dated,

Havana, May 3.

"Dear Sir—I have this day seen in a Kingston, (Jam.) paper of the 21st ult. a detailed account brought there by the British brig of war Parthian, of the capture of Puerto Bello on the 7th, by Sir Gregor M'Gregor, with about 400 troops and six or seven sail of vessels. There appears to have been little or no resistance, and a government had already been established satisfactory to the citizens generally, under a general Lopez. The opinion generally prevalent at Puerto Bello, was, that Chagres would also fall into the hands of the Independents—and that Sir Gregor was in expectation of news from Lord Cochrane on the other side of the Isthumus with a considerable fleet to encourage a movement to Panama."

DISEASE IN IRELAND.

A considerable part of our paper is this day occupied with a debate on this subject

At a former session of Parliament, a committee was appointed to make inquiry into the situation of the distressed inhabitants of Ireland, arising from the disease then spreading in that country. This Committee made a report, and measures were adopted to aleviate the sufferings of the sick.

On the 6th of April, the subject was again brought forward in the house of commons, and a motion made to appoint a new committee. In the course of the debate Sir J. Mewport, stated, that such was the violence of the disease that in four counties, no less than 43,000 patients had been admitted into the fever hospitals in the period of fifteen months.

HIGH COURT OF ADMIRALTY DOCTORS' COMMONS, Tuesday, April 6.

The Hercules.—PIRACY.—Sir William Scott gave judgement this day on the above important question, as not only prizes taken by vessels in the service of the South American Independents—but as extends to goods and merchandize, the proceeds of such captures, being subject to the jurisdiction of this court. The learned Judge observed this was on application on the part of the Spanish Ambassador, claiming on behalf of certain subjects of the king of Spain, certain monies, alledged to be the proceeds of goods piratically taken on the high seas by the ship Hercules, Brown, master, praying this court to grant such a warrant to arrest such property as in a cause of piracy. Another claim is put in by certain Spanish subjects, praying restitution, in consequence of an appeal from sentence of condemnation passed by the Vice Admiralty Court of Antigua, from which sentence and proceeding this court had dismissed the parties—and but for the objections now taken, restitution would have followed. There was no authority proceeding from the Crown of Spain which could, in this case, resist the claims set up by those Spanish subjects themselves, as to the validity of their claims. It was enough that these monies were not proved to have been the proceeds of Spanish property so taken—that was the objection of the claimants, and if the court had sufficient jurisdiction to entertain such enquiry. After an elaborate judgement, the Court decreed the warrant of arrest to pass.

Baltimore, May 21.

Extract of a letter from a merchant in Amsterdam, received by a commercial house in this city.

"Gentlemen—We beg leave to avail ourselves of the present opportunity to advise you of the state of our market, which effectually bears the weight of the late crisis, and of the events which the commercial world has witnessed. We differ with the neighboring markets, but this is only in some particular respects, and every where trade is in a distressed situation.

Our stock of tobacco is about 2000 hhds. Maryland, 150 hhds. Virginia, 150 hhds. Geo. and Carolina, & 2000 hhds. Kentucky—but as the market is situated, it is almost impossible to make any sales. We trust, however, that some amendment may be anticipated.

Our stock of cotton is about 10,000 bales. half of which are Bengals: and as prices are falling in England, we look for a decline here also. We are aware of the advantages which, if prices should come a little lower, will await speculators; convinced that the article will finally recover but at present it is almost impossible to make any sales.

Coffees and sugars are in general of dull sales, which as to the former article is not so much to be wandered at in the present general stagnation of trade, because pretty large quantities have been of late disposed of; and as to the other article, the demand for refines has been but trifling latterly, so that the sugar bakers have been very inactive.

Teas are plenty and of dull sales; our stock is large, owing to the remnants of former importations; and prices are quite nominal.

We beg your reference to the annexed price current.

Tobacco per cwt. Maryland, 11 a 13—Va. 8 a 10—Ky. 5½ a 6—dull and almost without demand.

Coffee, per lb. Java brown 17a 17½; yellow, 16 a 16½; Dutch and French W. I. colonies 14 a 16½. Considerable sales lately took place at these prices, and there is rather less demand in consequence.

Sugars, per lb. Havana white, 16 a 18½; brown 11 a 13; Brazil white 11 a 15½; do Muscovado, 10 a 13. The stock is small, and owing to the decline in other markets, the article has become depressed, and prices decline.

Cottons, Georgia Sea Island 50 a 60; do. ordinary stained Upland 30 a 38—the sales are heavy at these prices, and it may be presumed that a further decline will take place.

Cocoa, 14 a 16—dull.

Hides, Buenos Ayres and Rio, 9½ a 11—scarce and in demand.

Indigoes, Carracas 120 a 130, Bengal purple 90 a 120; copper and purple 80 a 90; Manilla 35 a 70. Sales—and the middling sorts are mostly enquired for.—Spanish Indigoes are growing scarce.—Cochineal 55 a 60; Campeachy logwood 5 a 5½; Nicaragua wood large 10 a 12, fustic—sales. Lignumvitæ, rather heavy, Carolina rice 50 a 55 nominal.

Teas, prices quite uncertain. Some public sales soon expected.

Extract of a letter from the Post-Master at Huron, to the editors of the Albany Daily Advertiser.

Huron, (Ohio) April 29.

A murder was perpetrated a few days since, which alarms the people—some are led to apprehend an Indian war; the terror, I presume will spread far and wide. On Saturday last, the dead bodies of Mr. John Wood, and Mr. George Bishop were discovered in their hunting Camp, about 12 miles up the *Carrying river. On examination the bodies were mangled in the most shocking manner, apparently done by the Indians. From the position in which they were found, they were probably tomahawked while asleep, and no resistance made. Strong suspicion rest on the Ottowa or Potowatoma tribe, who had been lurking about their camp for some time. Since the murder they have not been seen. The camp was pillaged of ten traps, and cooking utensils, &c. Four whites and eight Indians are in pursuit of the murderers—The Indians are generally more alarmed than the whites—they say they will never return without the murderers, or at least their heads. Mr. W. has left a wife and numerous family, to lament his untimely fate. He was formerly from Catskill, N. Y. or near that place. Mr. Bishop was a native of Middleton, Conn.—he has a mother, resident in New-York.

* The Carrying river empties into Lake Erie, about three miles from the head of Sandusky Bay.

Philadelphia, May 19.

We look with much anxiety for the official report of the cruize of the Ontario ship of war, which we learn by gentlemen recently from Washington is a highly interesting document, and will if published entire, silence the clamors of the privateer owners to the south. The distinguished rank which capt. Biddle has deservedly acquired in the service of his country, convinces us that the laurels which he has already won, will never be tarnished by any act unworthy the American name. We regret that a set of men should exist in this country, who bring a disgrace upon the character of American citizens, by unlawful depredations upon the property of nations with whom we are at peace—we are also sorry to observe that the execution of orders from government, to suppress such highway robberies, are charged by these men upon the officer employed for that purpose as a criminal and personal interference.

There is one fact which has come to our knowledge, with regard to the cruize of the Ontario, which speaks a language too loud to be misunderstood, and which redounds so much to the honor of capt. Biddle, and is so convincing a proof of his unwearied exertions to serve his country, that we cannot refrain from mentioning it. He effected the release of American property to the amount of about one million dollars, which would have been confiscated but for his personal interference, and he also caused the release of 25 citizens of the United States from the dungeons of South America—an act of lenity never before extended to any nation whose subjects were taken with arms in their hands.

The correspondence with Lord Cochrane, when published entire will present a different aspect from that which it at present bears. His Lordship while in England, was accused of something like Forgery, and it is not improbable that the same propensity still continues.

Extract of a letter to the Rev. Dr. Colin, dated

Gottenburgh, Jan. 3.

"Last summer was uncommonly warm here. The weather has also been mild the whole autumn, and continues. The fields are green; many spring flowers are gathered—and in several places cherry trees have blossoms. The same extraordinary season extends in the country up to Stockholm. No person can remember any such."

Most Valuable Landed Property for Sale.

BEING anxious to move to the south-western country, I am disposed to sell that most valuable and well known farm in Charles county, Maryland, called The Meadows, and a part of Westwood Manor.—This tract contains 930 acres, is most eligibly situated, lying in the fork of the two branches of the Wicomico river. As to fertility of soil, and advantages of every description, it is equalled but by few—surpassed by none.

Also, the farm on which I reside, called Somerset, in the County of King George, Virginia. This tract contains 676 acres, by late survey, and is also well situated, lying on the Potomac river, (opposite col. J. Tayloe's Maryland Poin testate) and bounded by the same upwards of a mile, is in a progressive state of improvement under the clover and plaster system, which has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations.

Also, two other small tracts in Westmoreland county, Va. containing 325 acres.

Also, 1140 acres of military land, in the state of Ohio.

As it is presumed that no person will (and as it is my desire that no one should) purchase without viewing the premises, I will not give a minute description of these tracts. Indisputable title will be made in every instance. Persons wishing to purchase, will please make application personally, or by letter addressed, to the subscriber, near Hampstead post office, Va.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. WITH confidence offers to the public, his superior Portable and Liquid blacking, so much admired and approved of, which is manufactured by himself only.

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public estimation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Miltimore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematicks, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board. Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendance over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year! It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Signed, by order,

NEALE H. SHAW, Reg'r.
